

Deniz Susar

Governance and Public Administration Officer, Digital Government Branch, DPIDG, UN DESA

Deniz Susar is a staff member at the United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UN DESA). He is currently serving as Governance and Public Administration Officer in the Digital Government Branch (DGB). His main work areas include digital government and preparation of the biannual UNDESA flagship publication 'United Nations E-Government Survey'. As part of his current role, he also supports the Internet Governance Forum (IGF) which is a Forum convened by the Secretary-General of the United Nations with the aim of bringing people together from various stakeholder groups as equals, in discussions on public policy issues relating to the Internet. Deniz Susar's main research areas include e-government, open government, citizen engagement, internet governance, artificial intelligence and other frontier technologies and open government data. Deniz Susar holds a Master Degree on International Political Economy and Development from Fordham University, New York, United States and a Computer Engineering degree from the Bosphorus University of Istanbul, Turkey. He worked in several environments in both the private and public sector in Dublin, Ireland and in Istanbul, Turkey. He currently lives in Upper Montclair, New Jersey and works in New York City.